Job Title: Manager, Marketing Outreach

Department: CECA

Reports To: Director, Communications & Marketing

Jobs Reporting: Business Developer (2 – working remotely), Marketing Coordinator (2-3), Leads Coordinator, Marketing Assistant

Salary Grade: USG 11

Effective Date: March 2017

Primary Purpose

Over 70% of undergraduate students choose to enroll at the University of Waterloo because of the co-operative education program. The average annual student employment rate of 97% speaks to the success and excellent global reputation of the University of Waterloo’s co-operative education program.

The Manager, Marketing Outreach plays a critical leadership role in achieving the department’s objectives to increase student employment through the recruitment of new employers and the retention of the existing employers in Canada and internationally. The incumbent is accountable for leading the development of the business development strategy specific to lead generation activities, lead management processes and the supporting technology. The incumbent will be accountable for maintaining the contact management system, and developing efficient, productive and effective processes to facilitate an increase in student employment. Business Development is the greatest priority for this role. Approximately 60% of the incumbent’s time will be spent leading, guiding, assessing and reporting on all of the activities from sales training and marketing to lead management and conversion to student jobs.

To retain our current employers and to support increased hiring from this employer base, the Manager, Marketing Outreach plays a key strategic role in developing a robust employer engagement and recognition framework and strategy and in implementing events, activities and campaigns. The incumbent is accountable for all aspects of the event plan from overseeing the logistics and bookings, branded premium items, staffing and the overall representation of CECA and the University of Waterloo to leverage the UWaterloo brand and reputation. The incumbent is also accountable for producing stand-alone events to recognize and engage with our employers such as top employers’ receptions and awards and employer speaking panels. The incumbent also seeks opportunities to connect our employers with campus partners such as Advancement, Alumni, or Research.

The incumbent manages a sizeable portion of the overall Communications & Marketing budget and is accountable for maintaining the budget on a regular basis to be up-to-date with all expenses tracked, monitored and reported regularly. This role manages significant relationships with CECA, across campus, across industry associations and across CECA’s vast employer network.

Job Description

staff training and orientation for CECA at the beginning of every term. The Manager, Marketing Outreach also leads the planning of the bi-annual CECA all staff meeting and the management team meetings. The incumbent coaches and mentors junior staff and leads the entire Communication and Marketing team in team-building and in team development such as facilitating and delivering an inclusivity workshop. Staff training is a key component of this role to enable the delivery of a consistent and high-quality experience for all prospective and current employers.

- Decision-Making Authority: The Marketing Outreach Manager makes decisions related to the development and implementation of the business development plan and the marketing outreach plan. The incumbent is accountable for implementing the plans in alignment with CECA business goals and priorities and the strategic marketing plan. The Manager makes decisions to secure vendor contracts for event venues and related items such as audio-visual services. The manager also manages the production of various activities and the related budget. The Manager, Marketing Outreach is expected to work with minimum daily supervision and is empowered to make critical decisions such as staffing and budget for the Marketing Outreach team.

- Physical and Sensory Demands: The incumbent will work in a fast-paced environment with a number of daily interruptions such as email. This role requires exertion of physical or sensory effort resulting in moderate fatigue, strain or risk of injury. Lifting and transportation of marketing materials and exhibit booth components, etc are a requirement of this role.

- Working Environment: This campus-based role involves minimal psychological risk resulting from unavoidable exposure to hazardous, disagreeable or uncomfortable environmental conditions. This role involves occasional travel across Canada or internationally for marketing events, occasional unusual hours or schedules due to event-driven deadlines, lack of control over work pace due to externally-driven deadlines, occasional irregular and/or high volumes and multiple and/or tight deadlines beyond one’s control due to marketing project deadlines, and constant interruptions due to phone and email. There is a high degree of variability each day and often the work demands are not predictable, and must be managed in a timely manner. Additionally, unplanned work requests and tight deadlines may be directed by senior leaders within CECA or within the University and must be delivered on time and on budget.
